01

Well-qualified raw material area

100% Natural

Only wind, sunshine and raindrop can touch our fruit, and the farmers hand that picks them, we try to honor this as much as we can.

Raw material is carefully chosen from the best coconut, completely from Ben Tre, the most famous land of coconut which accumulate 40% of the whole coconut area in Vietnam.

Thanks to the greater land condition than other countries in the world, located at the end of Mekong river downstream and purified by Cuu Long rivers (brackish water), Ben Tre coconut farming land is the alluvium land full of humus and good bacteria. For this reason, the average productivity of Ben Tre reaches to 1.9 tons copra/hectare, which is higher than the average rate of APCC. Oil concentrate in Ben Tre coconut is more than 65%. Moreover, the coconut water is pretty sweet (brix = 7% - 9%), so it's highly favored.

*APCC only reaches 0.9 tons copra/hectares. Philippines, Indonesia (0.85 tons), India (1.1 tons).

02

Farmers' dedication

Organic coconut plantation is like laying a foundation stone for future local's prosperity.

We are well aware that organic material is considered as the better future of the hard-working farmers. Recognizing the local people's love with Ben Tre, Betrimex carries out the organic cultivation program to protect the environment and land ecosystem, to love the coconut land as the farmers' love.

This is also the first organic coconut area in Vietnam, certified by Control Union and Doalnara Certified Organic Korea LLC.

From this land, best-qualified organic coconuts have been growing. To accompany with the farmers and to help them have a better understanding on organic agricultural benefits, Betrimex has conducted the following policies:

- 1 / Training organic cultivation to support farmers twice a year.
- 2 / Providing consultancy and guidance for farmers to choose the agricultural materials following the organic standards.
- 3 / Buying price for organic coconut increases 5% to 10% compare with ordinary coconut.

Besides, Betrimex invest in modern waste and sewage treatment system at the production factory, strictly implement environmental protection policies (especially land environment) during the process of building and developing organic coconut area.
