About Us

Nong Lam Food is a manufacturer and exporter of dried fruits from Vietnam. Our key principle of processing is 'Preserving the value of nature'.

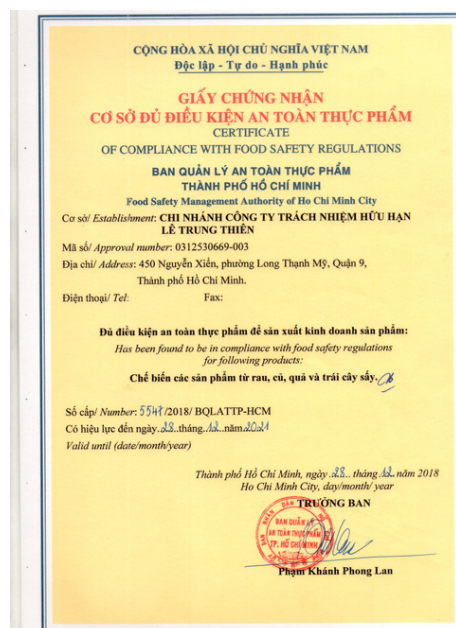

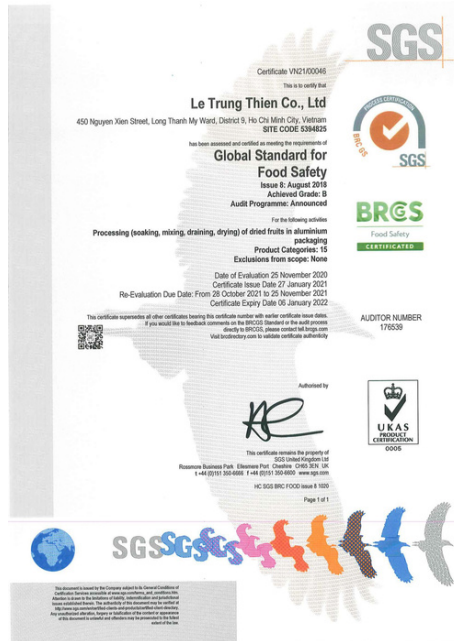

Nong Lam Food originates from Nong Lam University, HCMC and our R&D is linked to the university.

The manufacturing process applies advanced infrared drying technology from Korea, which retains all the nutritional content and makes products softer and tastier.

Fresh fruits are carefully selected from our connected farms in regions of Vietnam. They are kept full of flavors and values from nature.

Throughout the years, we have been building our reputation and gaining trust from the consumers both locally and internationally.

We have achieved prestigious certificates: BRC, HACCP, ISO22000, GMP, High-Quality Vietnamese Goods...

We are a group of people sharing the same mindset and action. We have the passion to serve the consumers, our families, and society. Creativity is encouraged and essential in all activities we are committed. Within the organization, we learn to love each other, respect, and understand the differences among members.
