OUR CASHEW NUTS FACTORY

Introduction

Vietnamese cashew nuts are renowned worldwide for their rich, creamy flavor and high quality. Grown in Vietnam's tropical climate with fertile soil, they have a distinctive milky white color and dense texture. Meticulously processed to preserve their natural aroma and crispness, Vietnamese cashews are a top global export, prized for their taste, nutritional value, and versatility in cooking and snacking.

Binh Phuoc The Cashew Capital of Vietnam

The cashew tree is a perennial industrial crop that is relatively easy to cultivate and maintain. It thrives in various soil types, particularly basalt soil. In Vietnam, cashew cultivation is primarily concentrated in the southern regions, notably the Central Highlands, Southeast, and several western provinces. Binh Phuoc province stands out as the largest cashew-producing area in the country, accounting for nearly 50% of the total cashew cultivation area and over 54% of national production. The province currently has about 170,000 hectares dedicated to cashew farming, yielding approximately 243,000 tons annually. The cashew productivity in Binh Phuoc reaches 600 kg per hectare, surpassing the global average.
